

Seaboard Air Line Still Seeks Access To Heavy Tonnage of Upper Glades-- So Runs Rumor Among Railroad Men

Management of the Seaboard Air Line is seeking entry into the Canal Point district--this is the gossip of the kind that railroad men call "switch-shanty talk" to describe rumors that circulate among them and for which definite authority does not exist. The long-cherished desire to share in the business of the upper Glades is known to have been revived by the knowledge that has come to the Seaboard officials of the expansion of the United States Sugar Corporation, the increasing production of vegetables, and the prospect of factories to handle products of textile-fiber plants.

The business depression of 1929-33 came too soon after the entry of the Seaboard into southern Florida to allow that road to execute the nebulous plans of an earlier period for a line into the Canal Point district, plans that were wrecked by the collapse of

H. G. Dahlberg's program for his Southern Sugar Company. The Seaboard is still in receivers' hands but its finances are much improved and the discharge of the receivers is not far off. Conditions for extension of the Seaboard track are favored by the recent absorption of subsidiary corporations into the main body.

Duel between the Florida East Coast railroad and the Seaboard is still under way, after a contest before the Interstate Commerce Commission which the Seaboard overcame. The F. E. C.'s opposition and built through to West Palm Beach and Miami--what the Interstate Commerce Commission will say to a further invasion may have to await the end of the war, and in the meantime the Seaboard can afford to indulge its old hopes.

Entry of the Seaboard into the Canal Point district will depend on two local factors as well as general factors; these are the measure of co-operation afforded by the United States Sugar Corporation and the Southern States Land & Timber Company. What may be a third factor is the outcome of the experiments that are being carried on by the developers of processes for handling radio, the textile plant. Related to the matter, also, is the decision yet to be made by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of the Florida East Coast railroad to reroute its tracks from the Lake Okechobee region to the east coast.

Full cooperation by the Southern States Land & Timber Company is assumed; that company insisted in bringing the Seaboard into southern Florida more than fifteen years ago--what the position of the sugar company may be is not known outside of the office of its management.

Cinematic Chatter

By Micolet Miller

I remember seeing this picture a while back. I believe in the North, and I remember I liked it very much. I am speaking about your Sunday-Movie show at the Prince Theatre.

The title of this show is "In Old Oklahoma" and it stars John Wayne and Martha Scott, with Albert Dekker lending excellent support, playing the shady villain and George "Gabby" Hayes. This story is based on the "wildcat" wells of Oklahoma when oil was just coming in and in that territory men and men were fighting with fair means and foul to gain fortunes in the black fluid.

Wayne and Dekker engage in one of the go-nowhere battles in this picture that has been screened since the days of the "Spiders," when Bill Parnum was so popular with movie fans.

For the Tuesday-Wednesday offering I find a lovely feature, and the first one up is "Passport to Destiny," which is a British picture.

Second picture up, which stars John Beal and Wanda McKay is "One Thrilling Night." I don't know too much about this one. According to press reports it is a very interesting story and every member of the cast turn in top performances during the unrolling.

Thursday-Friday is a double feature. First one up is "The Navy Way," which stars and features Robert Lowery, Jean Parker, Bill Henry, Roscoe Karns, Gale Storm and Rick Vallin head the second picture up, which is "Nearly Eighteen." Bill Henry, Luis Alberni, Ralph Hodgson, Jerry Bush and George O'Hanlon bring their backs in this one and need to add a lot of talent to the story. The story is rather complicated but it is a rollicking comedy that will hand you many laughs during its unrolling.

Saturday brings a favorite Western star to the Prince. He is Gene Autry, and of course, his old side pal "Smiley" Burnette is with him.

Signing off, let me tip you off to a beautiful piece of art that you can see when you go to the Post-office again. It is on P. M. C. office building. Being a student of art, with two semesters at Chicago Art Institute, a long way back, I can appreciate this art greatly. So I want to compliment the artist for composition, light, shades, coloring and masterful design that is really eye-catching. See you at the movies--Mal.

IS SILENCE GOLDEN?

The greatest question that has ever come ringing to the ears of mankind is, "Whom say ye that I am?" No one has ever been excused from answering it. The pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church in Canal Point shall preach Sunday morning at the 11:00 o'clock service on "Thou art the Christ--that's what Peter said when his Lord presented life's greatest question to him. Friends, that answer Peter gave was life's greatest answer life's greatest question."

LIONS LETTER

To My Fellow Lions in Service:

At our Tuesday meeting we had Cpl. David Unwin who is stationed on the desert in California and after hearing him talk about the hardships he is in Pahokee feel pretty comfortable.

Rev. Moberg visited us and reported in the good work that Lion Duncan Padgett was doing in the membership drive for the PTA. Previous to this year the membership was 206 but by now it has reached 272 with the expectation of running over the 300 mark.

The Lions have decided to hold their Ladies Night Oct. 17 at the Woman's club building. We regret you fellows in service cannot attend but all members' wives are invited.

Bean picking has been under way for a few days. I hope this finds all of you in good spirits and that it won't be long before you are back again.

If any of you happen to be in Durham (province in southeast) France, please say hello to my old lady friends there for me. With best wishes for your safety.

Sincerely yours,

Lion A. J. Gamot

Woman's Club To Hold First Meeting

The executive committee of the Pahokee Woman's Club at a meeting in the clubhouse Tuesday made plans for the club's first meeting of the season to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 8:30 p. m. Members of the legislative and publicity committees will be in charge of the program and act as hostesses. They are Mrs. Frank Rozelle, Mrs. D. W. Cunningham, Mrs. T. L. Burns, Mrs. R. J. Schroder, Mrs. Norman Kennedy, Mrs. Thomas Elliott and Mrs. Pat Schoppert.

The executive group voted to incorporate a Bible committee as a standing committee of the club, this new committee to present Bible studies at club meetings through the coming year.

Mrs. R. J. Barwick was named to select delegates to represent the club at the District 10 Federation meeting in Delray Beach on Nov. 4.

Leave rates on the clubhouse were announced by Mrs. J. H. Wilson as ranging from $3.15 for afternoon parties to $7.50 for public dances and banquets. Club members of good standing will be granted the use of the clubhouse free once a year.

Mrs. Minnie L. Hughes, Mrs. E. J. Barwick, Mrs. Frank Rozelle, Mrs. James H. Wilson and Mrs. R. J. Schroder were named by Mrs. J. R. York, president, on executive committee authorized to transact business that comes up between regular sessions. Material for the year book was assembled at the meeting.

NEW VARIETY BEAN

A new highly promising variety of snap-bean lately introduced into the upper Glades is the Prolific. Broad like the Bonifant, it has a richer green color. It was grown last season by a few local growers and yields so well and was so well received on the markets that Brandon Brokerage Company, among others, has increased its planting.

Plentiful are distributed locally by Kilgore Seed Company.

Lt. Ross Blech Takes Part In Raid On Manila In The Philippines On Sept. 20-21

Lt. Ross Blech, Pahokee High School graduate and former star of the Pahokee Blue Devils football aggregation, participated in the Navy's big blow on Manila in the Philippines on Sept. 20-21, according to a delayed Associated Press dispatch. Ross is a lieutenant pilot.

Dropping the first American bombs that had fallen on the Philippines capital since its capture by the Japs 30 months ago, the raiders damaged harbor installations, destroyed 24 planes, sank 25 ships and damaged or sank another 27, according to the Associated Press.

The weather over Manila was beautiful, the fliers told the Associated Press writer, and the Japs

Methodist Women Met Monday P. M.

The Pahokee Methodist WSCS at a meeting at the church Monday afternoon voted a $10 donation to the Brewster Hospital, Jacksonville. Mrs. John T. Pickett, supplies chairman, was authorized also to send $25 in cash and a box of needed articles to Wesley House, Key West.

Vows were made to send delegates to the WSCS district meeting at Trinity Church, Miami, on Oct. 19. Mrs. J. J. Schroder, spiritual life chairman, was asked to prepare a special program in observance of week of prayer, Oct. 25-31.

It was announced that the Gertrude Shirley Circle would meet with Mrs. B. Elliott Monday night at which time Mrs. J. M. Elliott will present the final chapter of the fall mission study book, "For All of Life." All members of the WSCS are invited to attend and are asked to bring to this meeting articles for the box to be sent to Wesley House.

It was also announced that the Simpson-Lair Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. L. M. Weeks on Oct. 23.

Mrs. Duncan Padgett presented the program. Mrs. O. D. Carpenter, first vice president, presided at the business.

Blue Devils Meet—

(Continued from page 1) thrilled the fans. Frank Handley did a good job of quarterbacking except for one play which turned out to be the prize horse of the game. With his team pushed back against their own goal line near the end of the fourth, Handley called for a pass and then proceeded to toss the ball into the waiting arms of Burton, ace kicker back, who obligingly took it from the Pahokee 30 and trotted across the goal line standing up.

The Seabees found the Pahokee line a solid wall of defense and were forced to make practically all their gains around ends. Some of the substitute linemen, including Wilton Giddens, 212 back guard, equalled the work of the regulars and the blocking and tackling of Halfback Frank Gills was something to write home about. A casualty of the game was Seaberg Burns, one of the most promising of the newcomers in the backfield, who received an incomplete leg fracture that will keep him on the bench for three or four weeks.

Coach O'Brien announces that the starting lineup against Okeechobee will be practically the same as that used in the opener with one or two last minute changes likely. Gills will probably start at right half.

Banner Crowd Is—

The attendance contest at the meeting was won by the eighth grade class, Mrs. J. R. York and Mrs. Dorothy Froemming, faculty apportioned. As an award members of the eighth grade will be given a party by the PTA in the near future.

During the fellowship hour which followed the program, refreshments of punch and sandwiches, prepared by the home economics girls were served in the home economics room with Mrs. Jess M. Elliott, hospitality chairman, and Mrs. Kathleen Mosley, home economics instructor, acting as hostesses.

GORDON HILLER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hiller of Pahokee, is home for a 30 day furlough after spending more than two years with Uncle Sam's Seabees in the Pacific.

had sent hundreds of smaller planes flying to blanket the city from American eyes. Enemy ships lay in the harbor like ducks too paralyzed to fly from the blast of a single gun. But the attack was had and there were Jap planes in the air. Fighter sweeps made over Manila clearing the way for the bombers.

Lt. Blech, 20, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Blech of Pahokee. He is a torpedo bomber pilot of VT 15 and has been on active duty in the Pacific since January. He enlisted as a Naval cadet in West Palm Beach June 5, 1942. After his graduation from Pahokee High School and received his wings and commission at Corpus Christi, Tex., May 22, 1943.

Women Urged To Attend Meeting

All women in the Pahokee-Canal Point area interested in home demonstration work are urged to attend an open meeting that is being called by Mrs. Bertha Hansen, County Home Demonstration Agent, at the Pahokee Woman's Club building on Tuesday night, Oct. 19, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of completely reorganizing the Home Demonstration Club in this community. An active home demonstration club is of real benefit to a community for it encourages members to make their homes more attractive and pleasant and teaches them how to do their home work more efficiently. Go to the meeting and be a part of it.

Demonstrations of the repair of home electrical appliances will be given. Persons who have electric cords or other simple appliances out of order are invited to bring them to this meeting for repair.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Thanks to the addition of two members, the Men's Fellowship Bible Class of Pahokee, now has a group of 104. Apparently this is the largest all-men class in the state for the size of the community, according to the reports obtainable. Pictures taken two weeks ago, thanks to the courtesy of P. D. Mayo, will be printed this week, the small ones to be sent to the boys in the service, the large ones for purchase by those interested. Fifty eight were in attendance last Sunday, W. A. Stevens, one of the most active members, has been absent because of illness, and to the joy of his class fellows, returned from the hospital this week, greatly improved in health. Joe Thompson is expected back this Sunday with a broad grin, thanks to the arrival of bundle of baby flesh—a long message. We are looking for at least 75 this week. The quartet will sing. The teacher, Rev. C. A. Moberg, will present the lesson, "Jesus Heals on the Sabbath." The class meets each Sunday morning, 9:45, at the Lions Club.

Rumor F.E.C. Ry. In New Management

Daily newspapers have not printed the story—though they had much on the subject months ago, but the duPont interests have succeeded in acquiring control of the Florida East Coast railroad, according to employees of the railroad company, and if Ed Ball who represents the duPonts is not actually directing the railroad he will be doing so soon.

Scott M. Flagler, of Jacksonville and W. R. Keenan of Lockport, N. Y., were the receivers of the F. E. C. when its finances got in bad shape after the expansion during the real estate boom and the depression came on. Keenan, a relative of a relative of the late Henry M. Flagler, the builder, represented what was known as "the Flagler money"; he is out, and railroad employees say "the Flagler money" is out.

Mr. Ball, in seeking to acquire control of the Florida East Coast, argued that the duPont interests would cooperate with local interests and provide better facilities and services more fully than the old management had done, because of the character and magnitude of the duPont interests in Florida. Miami's daily papers accepted this argument and expressed belief that a new railroad station in better location would result.

Since 1941 the direction of the affairs of the F. E. C. has been in the hands of trustees, a state of affairs that militated against changes in policy looking far to the future. It is true that the financial and ownership difficulties have been adjusted, there is warrent for expectation that the super Everglades as well as the east coast will benefit.
